

Name: _____ Class: _____ ()

Tuesday English News Report:

ANSWER KEY

Broadcast Date: 25th October, 2016

Observatory warns against ‘fictitious’ forecasts as Typhoon Haima edges closer to Hong Kong

Hong Kong (A) awoke to yet another typhoon standby signal No 1 on Thursday morning as Tropical Cyclone Haima edged within 800km of the city, with the possibility of the more serious strong wind signal No 3 being issued later in the day.

In the meantime, the Hong Kong Observatory (B) has issued a rare notice to the public not to believe “fictitious” weather information and forecasts (C) spreading on internet forums or social media. The stern reminder came on Thursday after a string of messages *went viral over mobile messaging network What’sApp.

(of an image, video, piece of information, etc.) circulated rapidly and widely from one Internet user to another.

*Allegedly originating from a “ship company”, the messages claimed that there would be a No 9 signal at noon on Friday, with “70 per cent chance of a No 10 typhoon signal” at 2pm.

(adverb) Used to convey that something is claimed to be the case or have taken place, although there is no proof. (synonym: supposedly)

Flooding and gale-force winds as Hong Kong (D) braces for Super Typhoon Haima.

“I would like to make clear to everyone that the Observatory does not help any industry or sectors conduct such detailed typhoon scheduling assessment. Such information is purely fictitious,” senior scientific officer Lee Lap-shun said in a statement.

“When sharing information, make sure the source is actually reliable. For all the latest storm news, please keep an eye on updates from the Observatory.”

The official standby signal (E) was issued at 8.20am on Thursday, after two days of torrential downpours and flash floods brought on by Typhoon Sarika. The rains on Wednesday caused serious road flooding and traffic congestion across Hong Kong.

Haima is expected to reach the Guangdong coast on Friday at the earliest and come within 100km of Hong Kong, the city’s official weather forecaster added.

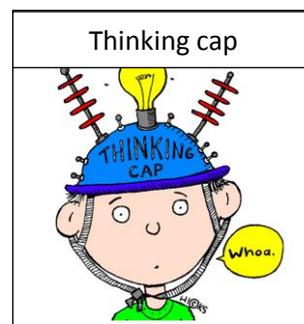

The weather in Hong Kong is expected to “deteriorate significantly”, with frequent squalls, heavy rain and seas rough with swells as the rainbands associated with Haima hover over the territory.

“Members of the public should remain vigilant and take all precautions as early as possible,” Kong said.

Adapted from the article in the South China Morning Post which appeared on Thursday, October 20th.

1. Questions to think about:

- We all want a day off school or work and hope one day the right weather warning will go up in the morning. However, should we really be hoping for this?
- Do you think the rain we are having in October is unusual?
- What are some issues related to natural disasters?

2. I: Vocabulary and understanding meaning

Match the meaning and/or synonym (words with a similar or the same meaning) to the words which have been highlighted in bold in the article.

Column A: Word from text	Letter	Column B: Meaning or synonym
1. edge(d) (v)	E	A: hang over
2. rare (adj)	H	B: get ready/prepare
3. fictitious (adj)	G	C: watchful
4. stern (adj)	F	D: the movement of the sea/big waves
5. brace(s) (v)	B	E: get closer to
6. deteriorate (v)	J	F: tough/strict
7. swells (n)	D	G: untrue/made up
8. squalls (n)	I	H: unusual
9. hover (v)	A	I: gusts of wind/strong winds
10. vigilant (adj)	C	J: get worse

II: Usage of vocabulary: The same word may have different meanings or be used in many different ways depending on its meaning and parts of speech. Use the correct form of the word from the list given in brackets to fill in the missing words of the sentences.

- (edge) (a) There are often railings at cliff edges to prevent people from falling. (b) Be careful when using that knife as the edge is razor sharp! (c) The woman edged away from the man because he made her feel uncomfortable. (d) The threat of terrorism made everyone feel on edge.
- (swell) (a) Susan looked swell in her new dress. (b) My ankle has really swelled up after falling over playing football. (c) The parents felt themselves swell with pride when their son won the top scholarship. (d) Because of the huge swells caused by the storm, the beaches have been closed to the public.
- (brace) (a) Some people need to get braces to help straighten their teeth. (b) The city is bracing itself for the oncoming storm as lots of rain is expected. (c) Some men wear braces with their trousers, it can be a fashion statement, or to help hold up their trousers. (d) When the phone call came, Tom braced himself for the bad news knowing his mum had been very sick. (e) Susan has to wear a neck brace because of whiplash to her neck in the accident.
- (rare) (a) I rarely take a day off work as I am hardly ever sick. (b) It is rare to have typhoons in October in Hong Kong. (c) Some people are willing to pay a lot of money for rare objects. (d) When I order steak at a restaurant, I always ask for well-done, not rare as I don't like eating blood red meat. (e) Rain is a rarity in the desert.

Challenge of the week: (1) Tense Buster: Look at the capital letters (A) – (E) in the article. What tenses are being used?

(2) Weather Words Fun: Come to the English Corner today to enjoy this week's weather words vocab challenge. Example: Fill in the missing word: Stratus, cirrus, cumulus and nimbus are types of _____.

PRIZES & MORE PRIZES to be won!